

Red Stone Drilling

...making waves in the North Sea and beyond for all the right reasons

“ADDRESSING THE NEEDS OF INDEPENDENT OIL & GAS COMPANIES AND PLANTING THE SEEDS FOR A SUCCESSFUL FUTURE”

Red Stone Drilling is a well engineering consultancy specialising in performance well management and drilling engineering. Although still in its infancy, Red Stone Drilling are already supplying a pool of engineers to a number of operating companies in the UK and are now focused upon becoming a global provider of superior well construction services to the upstream oil and gas industry.

We at Red Stone recognise that the key to success lies in having top quality people working for us and are currently seeking a number of drilling personnel to meet the growing demand we have for our services. Positions exist for:

- Drilling Engineers (3-5 yrs exp)
- Senior Drilling Engineers
- Drilling Superintendents

What separates Red Stone from the competition is the unique approach we have to ensuring that all our engineers get the deal they always dreamt of when considering a move.

“ AT RED STONE DRILLING, YOU’LL JOIN A UNIQUE POOL OF ENGINEERS WHO BETWEEN THEM FORM A POWERFUL KNOWLEDGE BASE FOR EVERYONE TO BENEFIT FROM”

Red Stone Drilling was created by experienced engineers who know how daunting a career change can be. Many people like the security of staff positions, others like the flexibility of going contract.

Red Stone Drilling can offer a combination of both of these options to the right candidates. However, unlike other consultant companies who simply “body shop” people out to the highest bidder, at Red Stone you’ll join a unique pool of engineers who between them form a powerful knowledge base for everyone to benefit from. Personal career development does not take a back seat.

So, whether you are an experienced engineer looking for a fresh challenge or a junior engineer wanting to make a move but are unsure where best to turn, why not give Red Stone Drilling a call to see if they can be your stepping stone to a brighter future.
